

LITTLE JOURNEYS
To the Homes of Great
Teachers

By Elbert Hubbard

MARY BAKER EDDY

Single Copies 10 cents • By the year $1.00

Little Journeys for 1909

BY ELBERT HUBBARD

WILL BE TO THE HOMES OF

Great Business Men

MR. Hubbard has been office boy, printer's devil, foreman, editor, manager, proprietor. He is an economist himself,—an economist of time, money and materials. He writes with the touch of a man who knows—more or less—about what he is talking. These biographies will be intimate, yet critical. Fra Elbertus uses red ink, and writes with a fresh nibbed, sharp-pointed pen and never with a whitewash brush.

THE SUBJECTS ARE AS FOLLOWS

ROBERT OWEN	JAMES J. HILL
STEPHEN GIRARD	JAMES OLIVER
ALBERT A. POPE	JOHN JACOB ASTOR
H. J. HEINZ	AUGUST SCHILLING
PHILIP ARMOUR	JOHN WANAMAKER
MAYER A. ROTHSCHILD	ANDREW CARNEGIE

SPECIAL LITTLE JOURNEYS for 1909, THE PHILISTINE Magazine for One Year and a De Luxe Leather Bound ROYCROFT BOOK, all for Two Dollars.

Entered at postoffice, East Aurora, N. Y., for transmission as second-class matter. Copyright, 1908, by Elbert Hubbard, Editor & Publisher

The Fra Xmas Number

THE FRA stands for Art Purity, Intellectual Uplift and Brotherly Love! You'll find THE FRA mental relief after popular pishmince Hishhash.

Twenty World-Famous Writers

Will contribute to our big Christmas Number. Each article will fittingly represent an IDEA expounded for FRA Followers by devotees of Crystalline Thought. ♣ A picture of Fra Elbertus, and also a group picture of Roycroft Horsemen, free with this Christmas number of THE FRA ♣ Artistic pictures mounted on Heavy Brown Mats, suitable for framing. (Not marred by printed matter.)

Gaspard's Conception of Jesus will be the cover portrait for December; a very beautiful work in two colors, on Alexandra Japan Vellum.

A CHRISTMAS PROPOSAL

Send us Two DOLLARS for Your Nineteen Hundred and Nine Subscription to THE FRA, and as a Christmas Present, we will send you our Double Christmas Number—gratis, together with a beautiful Two Dollar Roycroft Book, bound in limp leather.

TWO great Political Parties planked their platform with suffrage this year, yet neither won  Nor did they hope to win.

(Socialistic)

Unrestricted and equal suffrage for men and women and we pledge ourselves to engage in an active campaign in that direction.

(Prohibition)

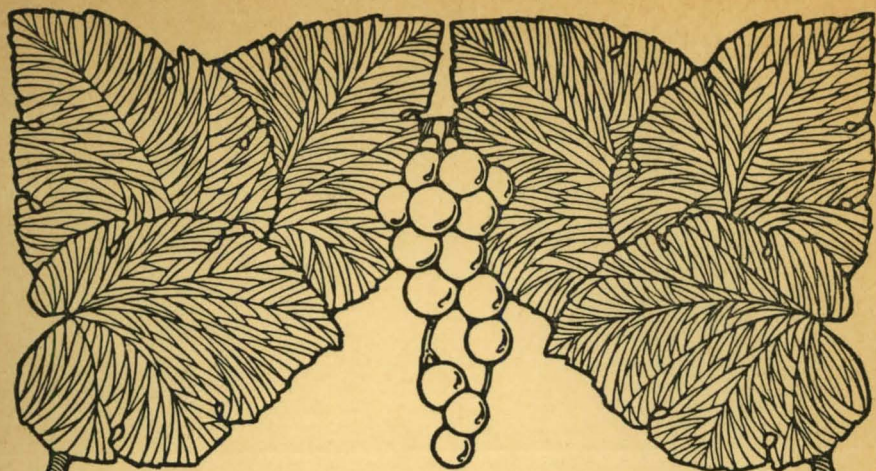

Legislation basing suffrage only upon intelligence and ability to read and write the English language.

But these signs are pointing the way to feminine freedom. Thinking men now recognize how unjust are prevailing conditions; school teachers, newspaper, and professional women, all property owners, remain at home while the charity-fed village idiot helps decide the issues of the day.  Mrs. Hubbard voices her protest against this old time "taxation without representation," in her Book,

W o m a n ' s W o r k

Don't read this work unless you are big enough to appreciate the logic it embraces. Women have long since outgrown slavery's shackles and are knocking loudly on the door of Recognition.

THE ROYCROFTERS, East Aurora, New York

LITTLE JOURNEYS

To the Homes of Great
Teachers

MARY BAKER EDDY

Written by Elbert Hubbard and done into a Printed Book by
The Roycrofters at their Shop which is in East
Aurora, Erie County,
New York

M C M V I I I

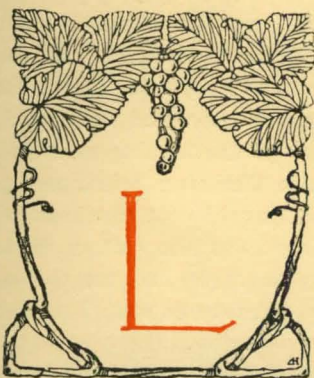

Rare Books
Hubbard
BX
6995
.H7
1908

THE chief stones in the temple of Christian Science are to be found in the following postulates: that Life is God, good and not evil; that Soul is sinless, not to be found in the body; that Spirit is not, and cannot be, materialized; that Life is not subject to death; that the spiritual real man has no consciousness of material life or death.—MARY BAKER EDDY.

MARY BAKER EDDY

LITTLE JOURNEYS

ET the fact be stated that Mary Baker Eddy is the founder of Christian Science.

This woman is still alive, alert, receptive. She is still discovering. We know this because she puts out a new message every little while, or modifies an old one, having come in the meantime into a position to get a nearer and clearer view of the fact. The last edition of "Science and Health" is a different book from the first one. ¶ Christian Science is not a fixed, formed, fossilized, ossified structure. Possibly it may become so. But the probabilities are that it will grow, expand, advance. ¶ Life and growth consist in eliminating dead matter, and evolving new tissue.

The institution, commercial, artistic, social, political, religious, that has ceased to grow has begun to disintegrate. Christian Scientists do not flee the world, renouncing and denouncing it. As a people they are well, happy, hopeful, enthusiastic and successful.

I am fairly well informed on the history of all great religions. In degree I know the character of intellect possessed by the folks who make or made up their membership. ♣ And my opinion is, that no religion that has ever existed contained so large a percentage of intelligent people, competent, safe and sane, as does Christian Science.

MARY BAKER EDDY

There is an adage to the effect that a prophet is not without honor save in his own country. In the case of Mary Baker Eddy the adage just quoted goes awry. ¶ Mrs. Eddy has retained the good will of Concord, Boston and Brookline, where she now resides. Very many of the leading men and women of each of these cities are Christian Scientists. ✽ The Christian Science Church at Concord cost upwards of two hundred thousand dollars, and was the gift of Mrs. Eddy. Over the entrance, cut deep in granite, are the words, "Presented by Mary Baker Eddy, Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science."

As to the argument that the truths of Christian Science have always been known and practiced by a few, Mrs. Eddy issues her direct challenge. In all of her literature she sets out the unqualified statement that she is "The Discoverer and the Founder." She is not apologetic—she assumes no modesty she does not feel—she speaks as one having authority, as did Moses of old, "Thus saith the Lord!"

She enters into no joint debates; she does not answer back. ¶ This intense conviction which admits of no parley is one of the secrets of her power.

Up to ten years ago the Billingsgate Calendar was directed at her upon every possible occasion. Now Mrs. Eddy has won, and legislation and courts have whistled in their hounds. Your right to keep well in your own way is fully recognized. Doctors are not liable when they give innocent sweetened water and call it medicine, nor do we place Christian Scientists on trial if their patients die, any more than we do the M. D.'s. Mrs. Eddy has influenced both the so-called sciences of medicine and theology. Even those who deny her and noisily discard her are debtors to her. Homeopathy modified the dose of all the Allopathists; and Christian Science has attenuated the Hahnemanian theory of attenuations, it having been found that the blank tablet often cures quite as effectively as the one that is medicated. Christian Science does not shout, rant, defy or preach. It is poised, silent, sure, and the flagellants, like the dervishes, are noticeable by their absence. The Rev. Billy Sunday is not a Christian Scientist. The Christian Scientist does not cut into the grape; specialize on the elevated spheroid; devote his energies to bridge whist; cultivate the scandal microbe; join the anvil chorus nor shake the red rag of wordy warfare. He is diligent in business, fervent in spirit, and accepts what comes without protest, finding it good. Mary Baker Eddy has lived a human life. Through her manifold experiences she has gathered gear—she is a very great and wise woman. She is so great that she keeps her own counsel, receives no visitors, makes no calls, has no Thursday, writes no letters and never goes to the Church that she presented to her native town.

MARY BAKER EDDY

Mrs. Eddy's step is light, her form erect—a slender, handsome, queenly woman.

She is sixty, you would say. The fact is she was born in Eighteen Hundred and Twenty-one, and although she keeps no birthdays, she might have kept eighty-seven of them. Her face shows experience, but not extreme age. The corners of her mouth do not turn down. Her eyes are not dimmed nor her face wrinkled. The day I last saw her she was dressed all in white satin and looked like a girl going to a ball. Her hat was a milliner's dream; her gloves came to the elbow and were becomingly wrinkled; her form is the form of Bernhardt.

MARY BAKER EDDY

¶ Her secretary stood by the carriage door, his head bared. He did not offer his hand to the lady nor seek to assist her into the carriage. ¶ He knew his business—a sober, silent, muscular, bronzed, farmer-like man, who evidently saw everything and nothing. He closed the carriage door and took his seat by the side of the driver, who wore no livery. The men looked like brothers.

The big brown horses started slowly away; they wore no blinders nor check-reins—they, too, have banished fear. The coachman drove with a loose rein.

The next day I waited in Concord, to see Mrs. Eddy again. At exactly two-fifteen the big, brown, slow-going horses turned into Main Street. Drays pulled in to the curb, automobiles stopped, people stood on the street corners, and some—the pilgrims—uncovered. ¶ Mrs. Eddy sat back in the carriage, holding in her white-gloved hands a big spray of apple blossoms, the same half smile of satisfaction on her face—the smile of Pope Leo the Thirteenth.

The woman is a veritable queen, and some of her devotees, not without reason, call her The Queen of the World. Some doubtless pray to her. Mrs. Eddy has been married three times. First, to Gilbert Glover, an excellent and worthy man, who is the father of her only child, a son. On the death of

MARY BAKER EDDY

Glover, the child was taken by Glover's mother and secreted so effectually that his mother did not see him until he was thirty-four years old, and the father of a family.

Her second husband was a Dr. Patterson, who was not only a rogue but a fool—a flashy one, that turned the head of a lone, lorn young widow, who certainly was not infallible in judgment. In two years the wife got a divorce from the doctor on the grounds of cruelty and desertion, at Salem, Massachusetts.

Her third marital venture was Dr. Eddy, a practising physician—a man of much intelligence and worth. From these two doctors Mrs. Eddy learned that the Science of Medicine was no science at all.

Mrs. Eddy has stated that her husband was her first convert, and Dr. Eddy gave up his practice to assist his wife in putting before the world the unreality of disease. That he did not fully grasp the idea is shown by the fact that he died of pneumonia.

This, however, did not shake the faith of Mrs. Eddy in the doctrine that sickness was an error of mortal mind. For a good many years Mrs. Eddy drove the memory of her two good husbands tandem, hitched by a hyphen, thus: Mary Baker Glover-Eddy. Many a woman has joined her own name to that of her husband, but what woman ever before so honored the two men she had loved by coupling their names! Getting married is a bad habit, Mrs. Eddy would probably say, but you have to get married to find it out.

¶ In Eighteen Hundred and Seventy-nine, Mrs. Eddy organized the first Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, and became its pastor. In Eighteen Hundred and Eighty-one, being then sixty years of age, she founded "The Metaphysical College," in Boston. For ten years she had been speaking in public, affirming that health was our normal condition and that as a man thinketh in his heart, so is he.

MARY BAKER EDDY

From her fiftieth to her sixtieth year she was glad to speak for what was offered, although I believe even then she had discarded the good old priestly plan of taking up a collection.

¶ The Metaphysical College was started to prepare students for teaching Mrs. Eddy's doctrines. The business ability of the woman was shown in thus organizing and allowing no one to teach who was not duly prepared. These students were obliged to pay a good stiff tuition, which fact made them appreciative. In turn they went out and taught; all students paid the tidy sum of one hundred dollars for the lessons, which fee has been cut to fifty. Salvation may be free, but Christian Science costs money. The theological genus piker, with his long, wrinkled, black coat, his collar buttoned behind, and his high hat, is eliminated.

Mrs. Eddy manages the best methodized institution in the world, save only the Roman Catholic Church and the Standard Oil Company. How many million copies of "Science and Health" have been sold, no man can say. What percentage of the money from the lessons goes to Mrs. Eddy only an Armstrong Committee could ascertain, and it is really nobody's business, but hers. That Mrs. Eddy has some very skillful helpers goes without saying. But here is the point

MARY BAKER EDDY

—she selected them, and she is supreme. ¶ That the student who pays fifty dollars gets his money's worth, I have no doubt. Not that he understands the lessons, or that any one does or can, but he receives a feeling of courage and a oneness with the whole which causes health to flow through his veins and his heart to beat with joy. The lesson may be to him a jumble of words, but he expects soon to grow to a point where the lines are luminous. In the meantime, all he knows, is that whereas he was once lame he can now walk.

Even the most bigoted and prejudiced now agree that the cures of Christian Science are genuine.

People who think they have trouble have it, and it is the same with pain. Imagination is the only sure-enough thing in the world.

Mrs. Eddy's doctrines abolish pain and therefore abolish poverty, for poverty in America, at least, is a disease.

Mrs. Eddy's chief characteristics are:

First—Love of Beauty as manifest in bodily form, dress and surroundings.

Second—A zeal for system, order and concentrated effort on the particular business she undertakes.

Third—A dignity, courage, self-sufficiency and self-respect that comes from a belief in her own divinity.

Fourth—An economy of time, money, materials, energy, and emotion that wastes nothing, but which continually conserves and accumulates.

Fifth—A liberality, when advisable, which is only possible to those who also economize. ¶ Sixth—Yankee shrewdness, great commonsense, all flavored with a dash of mysticism and indifference to physical scientific accuracy. In other words, Christian Science is a woman's science—she knows! And it is good because it is good—this is a science sound enough for anybody—I guess so! Christian Science is scientific, but not for the reasons that its promoters maintain. ¶ Male Christian Scientists do not growl and kick the cat. Women Christian Scientists do not nag. Christian Scientists do not have either the grouch or meddler's itch. Among them there are no dolorosos, grumperinos or beggars. They respect all other denominations, having a serene faith that all will yet see the light—that is to say, adopt their doctrines.

MARY BAKER EDDY

The most radical among old school doctors could not deny that Mrs. Eddy's own life is conducted on absolutely scientific lines. She never answers the telephone, nor fusses and fumes. She hires big, safe people and pays them a big wage. She pays her coachman fifty dollars a week, and her cook in proportion, and thus gets people who give her peace.

She goes to bed with the birds and awakens with the dawn ❧ ❧

At seven o'clock she is at her desk, dictating answers to the very few letters her secretary thinks she should see.

She has breakfast at nine o'clock—eats anything she likes, taking her time and fletcherizing. After breakfast she works at her manuscripts until it is time for the daily ride.

At four o'clock she dines—two meals a day being the rule. If she cares to dissipate a little and eat three meals a day, she is not afraid to do so. ¶ She knows her horses and cows and sheep by name, and gives requests as to their care, holding that the laws of mind obtain as to dumb animals the same as man. Dogs she does not care for, and if she had an aversion it would be cats. ¶ Her servants, she calls "my helpers."

MARY BAKER EDDY

¶ Christian Scientists very naturally believe in the equality of the sexes. When girl babies are born to them they bless God, just the same as when boy babies are born. In truth they bless God for everything, for to them all is beautiful and all is good.

¶ Paid preachers they do not have; they do not believe in priests or certain men who are nearer to God than others. All have access to Eternal Truth, and thus is the ecclesiastic excluded ❄ ❄

To eliminate the theological middleman is well, and as for the Church itself, surely Mrs. Eddy has eliminated it also; for she never enters a church, or at least not more than once a year, and then it is in deference to the architect. A Church! Is it necessary? For herself Mrs. Eddy says, No. But as for others, she says, Yes, a church is good for those who need it.

Mrs. Eddy is the most successful author in the world, or that the world has ever seen. No writer ever made as much money as she, none is more devoutly read ❄ Shakespeare, with his fortune of a quarter of a million dollars, fades into comparative failure; and Arthur Brisbane, with his salary of seventy-five thousand a year, is an office-boy compared with this regal woman who gives fifty thousand dollars a year for good roads.

MARY BAKER EDDY

HE valuable truths and distinguishing features of Christian Science are not to be found in Mrs. Eddy's books, but in Mrs. Eddy's life. ♣ She is a much bigger woman than she is a writer ♣ ♣

Emerson says that every great institution is the lengthened shadow of a single man. Every great business enterprise has a soul—one man's spirit animates, pervades and tints the whole. You can go into any hotel or store, and behold! the nature and character of the owner or manager is everywhere proclaimed.

You do not have to see the man, and the bigger the institution the less need is there for the man to show himself.

His work proclaims him, just as a farmer's live stock all moo, whinney and squeal his virtues—or lack of them.

As a boy of ten I learned to know all of our neighbors by their horses. The horses of a drunkard, blanketless, hungry, shivering outside of the village tavern, do they not proclaim the poor, despised owner within?

You can walk through the passenger coaches of a train made up at a terminal and read the character, unmistakably, of the general passenger agent.

The soul of John Wesley ran through Methodism and made it what it was. ¶ The Lutherism of Luther yet lives ;

MARY BAKER EDDY

Calvinism the same, and the soul of John Knox still goes marching on, carrying the Presbyterian banner.

Every religion partakes of the nature of its founder, until this religion is mixed with that of another and its character lost, as happened to the religion of Christ when it was launched by Paul and finally fused with paganism by the Roman Emperor, Constantine.

Christian Science is as yet the lengthened shadow of Mary Baker Eddy. Her own immediate, personal pupils are still teaching, and her life and characteristics impressed upon them, are given out to each and all. Every phase of life is solved by answering the question, "What would Mrs. Eddy do?" Mrs. Eddy's ideas about dress, housekeeping, business, food, health, the management of servants, the care of children—all are blended into a composite, and this composite is the Christian Scientist as we see and know him.

¶ The fact that Mrs. Eddy is methodical, industrious, economical, persevering, courageous, hopeful, helpful, neat in her attire and smiling, makes all Christian Scientists exactly so.

¶ She does not play cards and indulge in the manifold silliness of so-called good society, and neither do they. Indeed, that one thing which has been referred to as "the plaster-Paris smile," the one feature in Christian Science to which many good people object, is the direct legacy of Mrs. Eddy to her pupils. "Science and Health" says nothing about it; no edict has been put forth recommending it, but all good Christian Scientists take it on—the smile that refuses to vacate the premises. And to some it is certainly very becoming ❧

MARY BAKER EDDY

Mrs. Eddy's self-reliant, silent, smiling personality has given the key to conduct for the hundreds of thousands of people who love her.

Mrs. Eddy is a rare good listener. She does not argue—once she did, long years ago, but now her only answer to impatience is the quiet smile. As for eating, her table has enough, but stops short of surfeit; the service is dainty, and all these things are seen in the homes of Christian Scientists. Always in the home of a good Christian Scientist the bath room is as complete as the library, and both are models of good house-keeping, seemingly always in order for the inspection committee.

Mrs. Eddy does not say much about hot water, soap and clean towels, but the idea, regardless of the non-existence of matter, is fixed in the consciousness of every Christian Scientist that absolute bodily cleanliness, fresh linen and fresh air are not only next to godliness, but elements of it. All of which you could never work out of "Science and Health with a Key to the Scriptures" in a lifetime of study, any more than you could mine and smelt the Westminster Catechism out of the Bible.

The vital truths of right living come to us as a precious heritage from the character of this great woman. ✽ She, herself, may not know this; but before she wrote her book and formulated her religion, she lived her life. Her book is an endeavor to explain her life, and as her life grew better, stronger and more refined, she has changed her book. Her book has reacted on her life, and the person who has gotten most good out of "Science and Health" is Mary Baker Eddy.

MARY BAKER EDDY

¶ "Science and Health" is mystical and beautifully human. The author's oar often fails to catch the water. For instance, she tries to show that animal magnetism, spiritualism, mental science, theosophy, agnosticism, pantheism and infidelity are all bad things and opposed to the science of "true being."

¶ This statement presupposes that animal magnetism, infidelity, theosophy and agnosticism are specific entities or things, whereas they are only labels that are clapped quite indiscriminately on empty casks or full ones; and the contents of the casks may be sea-water or wine, and are really unknown to both mortal and divine mind, whatever these things are. Theosophists like Annie Besant, Spiritualists like Alfred Russel Wallace, Agnostics like Huxley and Ingersoll are very noble and beautiful people. They are good neighbors and useful citizens.

"Science and Health" is an attempt to catch and hold in words the secrets of an active, honest, healthful, seeking, restless, earnest life, and as such is more or less of a failure.

¶ Our actions are right, but our reasons seldom are.

Christian Science as a plan of life, embodying the great yet simple virtues, is beautiful. "Science and Health with a Key to the Scriptures" does not explain the Scriptures. The book, as an attempt to explain and crystallize truth, is a failure. It ranks with that great mass of literature, written and copied at such vast pains and expense called, "Writings of the Saints."

MARY BAKER EDDY

LL publishers are familiar with inspired manuscripts. Such work always has one thing in common—unintelligibility. Good literature is lucid to the average mind. In fact, that is its distinguishing feature. We understand what the man means. No able writer uses the same word over and over with varying sense ♣ Alfred Henry Lewis and William Marion Reedy use the mortal mind, and their work is understandable ♣ You can sit in judgment on their conclusions and weigh, sift and decide for yourself. They make an appeal to your intellect.

But you cannot sit in judgment on "Science and Health," because its language is not the language we use in our common, everyday intercourse with each other. It speaks of Christ as a person, a principle, a spirit, a motive, as "Truth"; as one who was born of one parent or no parents, who lived, died or never lived, never was born, and cannot die ♣ ♣

Metaphysics is an attempt to explain a thing and thereby evade the trouble of understanding it. You throw the burden of proof on the other fellow—and make him believe he does not comprehend because he is too stupid. This is not fair! ¶ Language is simply an agreement between people that certain vocal sounds, or written symbols, shall stand for certain ideas, thoughts or things. ¶ Inspired writers string intelligent words together in an unintelligent manner, and thereby give the reader an opportunity to read anything into them that his preconceived thoughts may dictate. Metaphysical gibberish is a rudimentary survival of the practice of reading to the people in a dead language. The doctors continue the plan by writing prescriptions in Latin.

MARY BAKER EDDY

I once worked in a studio where the boys scraped their palette knives on a convenient board. One day we took the board out and had it framed under glass, with a double, deep shadow box. We gave it the best place in the studio, and labeled it, "A Sunset at Sea—an Impression in Monochrome."

The picture attracted much attention and great admiration from certain symbolists. It also created so much controversy that we were obliged to take it down in the interests of amity.

¶ To assume that God inspired the Scriptures, and did the work so ill that, after more than two thousand years it was necessary to inspire another person to make a "Key" to them, is hardly worthy of our serious attention. ✽ If God, being all-wise, all-powerful and all-loving, turns author, why does He produce work so muddy that it requires a "Key?"

¶ Individuals may use a code that requires a "Key," because they wish to keep their matter secret from others. There may be for them a penalty on truth, but why Deity should write in a secret language, and then wait two thousand years before making the matter plain, and then to one single woman in Boston, is incomprehensible.

MARY BAKER EDDY

What the world wants now is a Key to "Science and Health."

¶ In reading a book, the question that interests us is not "Is it inspired?" but, "Is it true?"

Mrs. Eddy's ranks are recruited almost entirely from Orthodox Christianity. On page six hundred and eight of "Science and Health," pocket edition of Nineteen Hundred and Six, a lawyer gives testimony to the good he has gotten from Christian Science, and explains that he has long been a member of the Episcopal Church. He is delighted to know that he has not had to relinquish any of his old faith, but has simply kept the old and added to it the new.

This explains, in great degree, the popularity of Christian Science. People cling to the religious superstitions into which they were born. Mrs. Eddy's recruits are not from theosophy, spiritualism, agnosticism, unitarianism, universalism or infidelity. You can't give a free-thinker a book with a statement of what he must find in it. He has acquired the habit of thinking for himself.

Mrs. Eddy has no faith in Darwin, Spencer or Hæckel. She quotes Moses, Jesus and Paul to disprove the evolutionists, sits back and smiles content, innocently unaware that citations from Scriptures are in no sense proof to free minds.

¶ All of the Bible she wishes to waive, she does. The cruelty and beastiality of Jehovah are nothing to her. Her "Key" does not unlock the secrets of Deuteronomy and Leviticus, nor does it shed light on the doctrines of eternal punishment, the vicarious atonement, or the efficacy of baptism as a saving ordinance.

MARY BAKER EDDY

Explanations about mortal mind, divine mind and human mind, citing specific errors of the human mind, with a calm codicil to the effect that the human mind has no existence, is not an illuminating literature.

It is simply "inspired."

Mrs. Eddy is very wise in not allowing her "readers" or followers to sermonize or explain her writings. These writings are simply to be read. And so the hearers sit steeped in mist, and wrapped in placidity, returning to their work rested and refreshed, without being influenced in any way, save by the soothing calm of forceful fog and mental vacuity. The rest and relief from all thought is good.

The related experiences of Christian Scientists are the things that convince and carry weight, not "Science and Health."

¶ "Science and Health" is made to sell. It is not given to you to be understood, it is to be bought and believed. If you doubt any portion of it, at once you are told that this is the work of your mortal mind, which is filled with error.

¶ Good Christian Scientists do not try to understand "Science and Health,"—they just accept and believe it. "It is inspired," they say, "so it must be true—you will know when you are worthy to know."

And so we see our old friend Intellectual Tyranny come back in another form, not with cowl and cape, but tricked out with feminine finery and jewelry and gems that lure and dazzle.

There is one thing quite as valuable as health, and that is intellectual integrity.

MARY BAKER EDDY

To say, "Oh, 'Science and Health' is certainly inspired—just see how old Mrs. Johnson was cured of the rheumatism!" is not reasoning. And it has given the scoffers excuse for calling it woman's logic.

Such reasoning is on the plane of, "Why, Jesus must have been the only begotten son of God, born of a virgin, for if you don't believe it, just see the hospitals, orphan asylums and homes for the aged that Christianity has built!"

Mrs. Johnson was surely cured of the rheumatism all right, but that does not prove that Mrs. Eddy is correct in her claim that Eve was made from Adam's rib; that agamogenesis is a fact in nature; that to till the soil will not always be necessary; that human life in these bodies will have no end; and that an absent person can poison your health and happiness through malicious animal magnetism; or that a good person can give you absent treatment and cure your indigestion.

I agree with Mrs. Eddy as to the necessity of eliminating a medical fetich, but I disagree with her about religiously preserving a theological one.

I have read "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" for twenty years, and I have also read the Scriptures for a much longer period. Also, I have lived in the same house for many months with very intelligent Christian Scientists. And after mature consideration I regard both the Scriptures and "Science and Health" as largely made up of the errors of mortal mind.

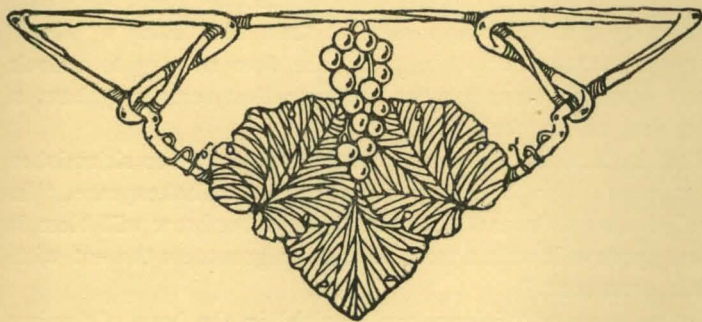

My intuitions are just as valuable to me as Mrs. Eddy's are to her. My conscience is quite as sacred to me as hers is to her. And in being an agnostic I object to being classed as blind, stubborn, wilful, malicious and degenerate. We should honor our Creator by cleaving to the things that seem to us to be true, and not abandon the rudder of our minds to any man or woman who ever lived or who lives now.

MARY BAKER EDDY

Let us not be dishonest with ourselves, even to rid us of our physical diseases.

As for health, I have all of it that Christian Science ever gave or can give. I have no "testimony" of healing to relate for I have never been sick an hour. And I think I know how I have kept well. I make no secret of it. It is all very simple—nothing miraculous. And my knowledge of how to keep well is not inspired knowledge, save as all men are inspired who study and know the Laws of Nature.

MARY BAKER EDDY

ACK of the reading desks, in the "Mother Church," at Boston, are quotations from Paul and Mrs. Eddy, side by side. But the quotation from Paul, which is behind the woman reader's desk is not this: "Let women keep silence in the Churches."

Mrs. Eddy believes the Scriptures are all true, word for word. Yet when she quotes Paul she picks the thing she wants and avoids all that does not apply to her case.

Personally, I like this plan. I do it myself. But I do not believe the Scriptures are inspired by an all-wise Deity. So far as I know, all books were written by men, and very often by faulty, human men at that. Mrs. Eddy's "Key" does not unlock anything; and she does not try to unlock any passages excepting the passages that seemingly have a bearing on her belief.

That is, Mrs. Eddy believes things first, and then skirmishes for proof. This is a very old plan. Says Shakespeare, "In religion what damned error but some sober brow will bless it and approve it with a text, hiding the grossness thereof with fair ornament."

Let no one read "Science and Health" in the hope of finding in it simple and sensible statements concerning life and its duties. They are not there.

MARY BAKER EDDY

I append a few quotations, and in mentioning the page I refer to the pocket or "Oxford" edition of Nineteen Hundred and Six.

On page one hundred and eighty-three of "Science and Health" I find: "The Scriptures inform us that sin, or error, first caused the condemnation of man to till the ground, and indicate that obedience to God will remove this necessity."

¶ Mrs. Eddy believes that work is a punishment, and that the day will come when God will remove the necessity of farming and making garden. Can a sane person reply to such lack of logic?

On page five hundred and forty-seven is this: "If one of the statements in this book is true, every one must be true, for not one departs from its system and rule. You can prove for yourself, dear reader, the Science of healing, and so ascertain if the author has given you the correct interpretation of Scripture."

This is evidently inspired by Paul's quibble, "If the dead rise not from the grave then is our religion vain." Lincoln once referred to this kind of reasoning by saying, "I object to the assumption that my ambition is to have my son marry a negress, simply because I am struggling for emancipation." Mrs. Eddy may heal you, but that does not prove that her interpretation of Scripture is true.

Because this happens, that does not necessarily follow. Neither, because a thing precedes a thing, or goes with a thing, is the thing the cause of the thing.

On page five hundred and fifty-three is this: "Adam was created before Eve. Herein it is seen that the maternal egg never brought forth Adam. Eve was formed from Adam's rib, not from a foetal ovum."

MARY BAKER EDDY

In reading things like this in "Science and Health" let us not be too severe on Mrs. Eddy, but just bear in mind that such silly superstitions and barbaric folk-lore are yet officially believed by all Orthodox Clergymen and members of Orthodox Churches. You can accept a belief in Adam's fall and the vicarious atonement and still make money and have good health.

Page one hundred and two: "The mild forms of animal magnetism are disappearing, and its aggressive features are coming to the front. The looms of crime, hidden in the dark recesses of mortal thought, are every hour weaving webs more complicated and subtle. So secret are its present methods that they ensnare the age into indolence, and produce the very apathy on this subject which the criminal desires."

This passage reveals the one actually dangerous thing in Christian Science—the fallacy that one mind can weave a web that will work the undoing of another. This is the basis of a belief in witchcraft, and justifies the hangings at Salem.

On page one hundred and three I find this: "As used in Christian Science, animal magnetism or hypnotism is the specific term for error, or mortal mind. It is the false belief that mind is in matter, and both evil and good; that evil is as real as goodness, and more powerful. This belief has not one quality of truth or good. It is either ignorant or malicious. The malicious form of animal magnetism ultimately in moral idiocy. The truths of immortal mind sustain man; and they annihilate the fables and mortal mind, whose flimsy and gaudy pretensions, like silly moths, singe their own wings and fall into dust.

MARY BAKER EDDY

"In reality there is no mortal mind, and consequently no transference of mortal thought and will power."

Page five hundred and two: "Spiritually followed, the book of Genesis is the history of the untrue image of God, named a sinful mortal. ✱ This deflection of being, rightly viewed, serves the spiritual actuality of man, as given in the first chapter of Genesis. When the crude forms of human thought take on higher symbols and significations, the scientifically Christian views of the universe will appear, illuminating time with the glory of eternity."

I append these two passages simply as samples of "inspired literature." Any one who endeavors to understand such printed matter is headed for Bloomingdale. You must leave it alone absolutely or else accept it and read it with your mental eyes closed, mumbling it with your lips, and let your mind roam like a priest reading his breviary in the smoking apartment of a Pullman car.

The question then arises, "Is Mrs. Eddy sincere in putting forth such writing?"

And the answer is, she is most certainly sincere, and she is certainly sane. She is an honest woman. But she is not a clear or logical thinker, except on matters of finance and business, and consequently she does not give forth a clear expression when she essays philosophy. In order to write lucidly you must think lucidly. Mrs. Eddy has no sense of literary values ✱ She is absolutely devoid of humor, and humor is only the ability to detect a little thing from a big one—to perceive a wrong adjustment from a right one.

MARY BAKER EDDY

¶ Style in literature is taste.

But the lack of style, taste and humor are general in mankind. The world has only produced a few great thinkers, and one of them was Darwin, a name which Mrs. Eddy mentions in "Science and Health" with reproach. Great writers are even more rare than great thinkers, because to write one must not only have the ability to think clearly, but the knack or technical skill to use the right word—the luminous word—and so arrange, paragraph and punctuate them that your meaning will be clear to average minds.

To say that Mrs. Eddy is not a thinker, nor a writer, is not an indictment of the woman, although it may be a reflection on the mental processes of the people who think she is. To say that there are two million people reading Mrs. Eddy, also proves nothing, since numbers are no vindication. Over a hundred million people have kissed the big toe of St. Peter in Rome. And surely the Roman Catholic Church contains a vast number of highly educated people.

The things you do not know, you do not know. And Mrs. Eddy knowing nothing of literary style, knows nothing of literary art. Her prose and her poetry are worse than ordinary ✱ All inspirational poetry I ever read is rot and all inspired paintings I ever saw are daubs. ¶ Mrs. Eddy should not be blamed for her limitations. Many people who are great in certain lines, labor under the hallucination that they are also great in others.

MARY BAKER EDDY

Matthew Arnold was a great writer, and he also thought he was a great orator. But when he spoke, his words simply fell over the footlights into the orchestra and died there. He could not reach the front row.

Most comedians want to play Hamlet, and all of us have heard girls attempt to sing who thought they could sing, and who were encouraged in the hallucination by their immediate kinsfolk ❧ ❧

Mrs. Eddy thinks she can write, and unfortunately she has been corroborated in her error by the applause of people who, not being able to read her book, kindly attribute the inability to their own limitations and not to hers, being prompted in this by the suggestion oft repeated by Mrs. Eddy, herself ❧ The resemblance of Mrs. Eddy's thought to that of Jesus was never noticed until Mrs. Eddy first explained the matter.

¶ Mrs. Eddy is not insane. Swedenborg was a civil engineer and a mathematician. He wrote forty books that are nearly as opaque as "Science and Health" ❧ If you write stupidly enough, some one will surely throw up his cap and cry "Great!" And others will follow the example and take up the shout, because it is much easier, as Doctor Johnson affirmed, to praise a book than to read and understand it.

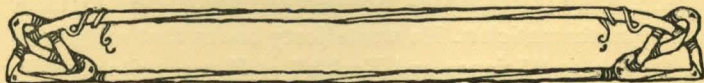

¶ The custom of reading to a congregation in a dead or foreign language, which the listeners do not understand, has never caused any general protest from the listeners. The scoffers are the only ones who have ever noticed the incongruity, and they do not count since they probably would not attend, anyway.

MARY BAKER EDDY

Next to reading from a book written in a dead language, is to read from a book that is unintelligible. To listen to such makes no tax upon the intellect, and with the right accessories is soporific, restful, pleasing and to be commended. If it does not supply an idea, it at least imparts a feeling.

Mrs. Eddy's success in literature arises from the extreme muddiness of her thinking and her opacity in expression. If she wrote fairly well, all could detect her mediocrity, but writing absolutely without rhyme or reason, we bow before her supreme assurance. The strongest element in men is inertia,—we agree rather than fight about it. We want health—Mrs. Eddy gives it to us—therefore "Science and Health and Key to the Scriptures," is the greatest book in the world. Sancta simplicimus!

MARY BAKER EDDY

PEOPLE turn to Mrs. Eddy for relief just exactly as they formerly went to the doctor for the same reason. In addition to bodily health Mrs. Eddy gives joy, hope, worldly success; and even superior minds, seeing these practical results of Christian Science, move in the line of least resistance and are quite willing to accept the book, not troubled at all about its mediaeval reasoning. ¶ In Ungania is a very great merchant, who, not content with having the biggest store in the Kingdom, aspires to the biggest University. ✱ The fact that the higher criticism is only to him a trivial matter, and really unworthy of the serious attention of a busy man, simply reveals human limitation. The specialist is created at a terrific cost, and that a person will be practical, shrewd, diplomatic and wise in managing the buying public and an army of employes, and yet know and love Walt Whitman, is too much to expect.

This keen and successful merchant, an absolute tyrant in certain ways, has his soft side and many pleasant qualities. Why any one should ever question the literal truth of the Bible is beyond his comprehension. He is convinced that the "Leaves of Grass" is an obscene book, never having read it; yet he knows nothing about the third, eleventh and thirteenth chapters of Second Samuel, having read the Book all his life.

MARY BAKER EDDY

He has a pitying, patronizing smile for any one who suggests that David was a very faulty man, and that possibly Solomon was not the wisest person who ever lived. "What difference does it make, anyway?" he testily asks.

If you work for him you have to agree with him, or else be very silent as to what you actually believe.

We often find an avowed and reiterated love for Jesus, the non-resistant, going hand in hand with a passion for war, a miser's greed, a lust for power and a thirst for revenge. There may be a prating about righteousness while the hand of the man is feeling for his sword hilt, and his eye is locating your jugular.

The Ten Commandments are all rescinded in war-time.

The "New York Evening Post" noted the peculiar fact that nine out of ten of the delegates at the late Peace Conference were theological heretics. As a rule Orthodox Christians stand for war, and also for capital punishment.

How do we explain these inconsistencies? We do not try to—they are simply facts in the partial development of the race ❀ ❀

Why millionaires should patronize the memory of Jesus is something no one can understand, save that things work by antithesis.

Mrs. Eddy is of the same shrewd, practical type as this merchant prince, just mentioned. She is the world's greatest woman-general. She has all the qualities that go to make successful leadership. She is self-reliant, proud, arrogant, implacable in temper, rapid in decision, unbending, shrewd, diplomatic, and she is a good hater. At times she dismisses her critics with simply a look. No man can dictate to her, and few dare make suggestions in her presence. To move her, the matter must be brought to her attention in a way so that she thinks she has discovered it herself. Then all credit must be hers. In all the Christian Science churches are various selections from her writings, and beneath every one is her name. "Thou shalt have no other gods before me!" is the one controlling edict breathed forth by her life and words.

MARY BAKER EDDY

She orders that whenever one of her hymns is announced, always and forever, it must be stated that it is by Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy.

Always and forever, the "student" giving testimony, refers in terms of lavish praise and fulsome adulation to "Our Blessed Teacher, Guide and Exemplar, Mary Baker Eddy." God Almighty and Jesus occupy secondary positions in all Christian Science meetings & Mrs. Eddy is mentioned five times to where They are once.

And I would not criticise this if Mrs. Eddy regarded Jesus as simply a great man in history and "God" as an abstract term referring to the Supreme Intelligence in Nature. But to her, God and Jesus are persons who dictate books, and very frequently she explains that her method of healing is exactly the same as that practiced by Jesus. Side by side with His words are hers. Passages from the Bible are read alternately with passages from "Science and Health." If both were regarded as mere literature, this would be pardonable, but when we are told that both are "sacred" writ, and "damned be he who dares deny or doubt," we are simply lost in admiration for the supreme egotism of the lady. To get mad about it were vain—let us all smile ☞ Surely the imagination that can trace points of resemblance between Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy and Jesus, the lowly peasant of Nazareth, is admirable.

MARY BAKER EDDY

Jesus was a communist in principle, having nothing, giving everything. He carried neither scrip nor purse. He wrote nothing. His indifference to place, pelf and power is His distinguishing characteristic.

Mrs. Eddy's love of power is the leading motive of her life; her ability to bargain is beautiful; her resorts to law and the subtleties of legal aid are strictly modern; and the way she ties up the title to her writings by lead-pipe-cinched copyrights reveals the true instincts of Connecticut.

This jealousy of her rights and the safeguarding of her interests are the emphatic features of her life, and set her apart as the antithesis of Jesus.

There is one character in history, however, to whom Mrs. Eddy bears a close resemblance, and that is Julius Cæsar, who was educated for the priesthood, became a priest and was Pope of Rome before he ventured into fighting and politics as a business.

Mrs. Eddy's faith in herself, her ability to decide, her quick intuitions, the method and simplicity of her life, her passion for power, her pleasure in authorship—all these were the traits which exalted the name and fame of Cæsar. The inventor of the calendar ordered that it should be known as the "Julian Calendar"; and it is so called, even unto this day ❧ ❧

MARY BAKER EDDY

Once Carlyle sat smoking with Milburn, the blind preacher.

¶ They had been discussing the historicity of Jesus.

Then they sat smoking in silence.

Finally, Tammas the Techy, knocked the ashes out of his long clay t. d. and muttered, half to himself and half to Milburn, "Ah, a great mon, a great mon—but he had his limitations!"

The same remark can truthfully be applied to Mrs. Eddy. And about the only point that Jesus and Mrs. Eddy have in common is this matter mentioned by Carlyle.

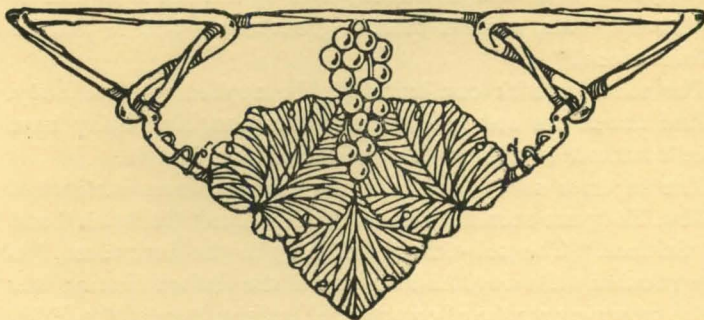

The superior shrewdness and the keen business instinct of Mrs. Eddy are seen in the use of the words "Christian" and "Science." The sub-title, "And Key to the Scriptures," is particularly alluring. And the use of the Oxford binding was the crowning stroke of commercial insight. Surely Mrs. Eddy must command our profound respect. She is a very great business genius.

The recent attempt to deprive this woman of her power and of her property, in this land which essentially stands for the divine right of property, was most happily frustrated by Mrs. Eddy herself, when she invited the Master in Lunacy to her house. His questioning of her as to the relative difference between bonds and stocks as safe investments threw the prosecution into the air. In wrathful disappointment Jagers (of Jagers & Jagers), for the prosecution, hastily bundled up his papers, jammed his high hat over his ears, and informed the reporters that he intended to wait until the woman was dead and then "bust her will."

MARY BAKER EDDY

This decision not to fight the woman until she was dead, showed the good sense of Jagers. It was unlawyerlike in Jagers to say so, but the act is wise withal, since the will of the living woman has never been successfully attacked.

MARY BAKER EDDY

JOHN HENRY NEWMAN became a Catholic, saying he found no place in literature or art to rest his head. His reward for not finding a place in literature or art for his head was the red hat. ¶ Let the followers of Mrs. Eddy take comfort in the fact that their great teacher has plenty of high precedent for believing that Adam was created by fiat, and Eve was made from his rib, all the fiat being used; that Joshua commanded the sun to stand still and it obeyed, even when the order should have been given to the earth; that Lazarus was raised from the dead after his body had become putrid; that witchcraft is a fact in nature; and that children can be born by the aid of one parent a little better than in the old-fashioned way. These inconsistencies of absolute absurdity, existing side by side with great competence and sanity, are to be found everywhere in history.

Mrs. Eddy has excited the envy of the medical world in her demonstration that good health and happiness are the sure results of getting rid of the doctor habit; but they got even with her when she said that virgin motherhood would yet become the rule, and tilling of the soil would cease to be a necessity.

Mrs. Eddy can believe in the Mosaic account of creation and still be a great financier—there is plenty of precedent here ♣ ♣

MARY BAKER EDDY

St. Augustine thought, as did most of the early Churchmen, that to do evil that good might follow was not only justifiable, but highly meritorious. So they preached hagiology to scare people into the narrow path of rectitude.

Chapman, Alexander, Torrey, Billy Sunday and most other professional evangelists, believe in and practice the same doctrine.

The literary conscience was a thing known in Greece, but only recently, say within two hundred years, has it been again manifest, and as yet it is rare. It consists in the scorn and absolute refusal to write a line except that which stands for truth.

The artistic conscience that refuses to paint for hire or model on order, is the same. Wagner, Millet, Rembrandt, William Morris and Ruskin are examples of men who refused, and in fact were incapable of anything but their highest and best in creative work.

Such men may be without conscience in a business way. And a person may be absolutely moral in all his acts of life, excepting in writing and talking, and here he may be slipshod and uncertain.

Mrs. Eddy is without literary conscience, just as much as was Gladstone when he attempted to reply to Ingersoll in "The North American Review," and resorted to sophistry and evasion in lieu of logic.

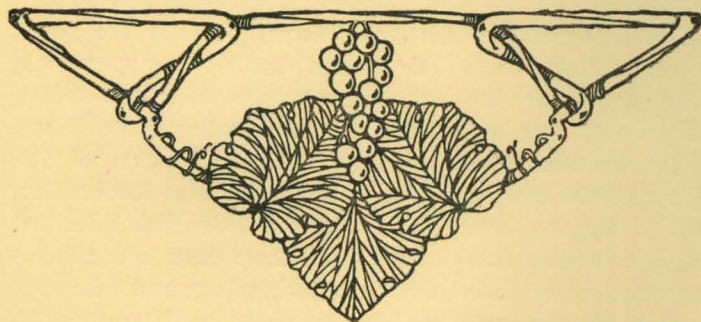

Absolute truth to Gladstone was a matter of indifference—expediency was his shibboleth ✱ Truth to Mrs. Eddy is a secondary matter; the two really important things are Health and Success.

MARY BAKER EDDY

Health and Success are great things to have, too, but I wish to secure them only through the expression of truth. If you gag my tongue, chain my pen and cry, "Believe and you will have Health," I would say, "Give me liberty or give me death" ✱ ✱

Mrs. Eddy asks you to buy her book, "Science and Health." When the volume is handed to you, you are promised health and success if you believe its every word; and if you don't, you are threatened with "moral idiocy." It is the old promise of Paradise, and the threat of hell in a new guise. I decline the book.

MARY BAKER EDDY

STEPHEN GIRARD was a great merchant who had a great love of truth, but if he had been in a retail business his zeal for truth might have been slightly modified ❀ ❀

As a rule the world of humanity can be divided into two parts: the practical men and the searchers for truth. Usually the latter have nothing to lose but their heads. Spinoza, Gallileo, Bruno, Thomas Paine, Walt Whitman, Henry Thoreau, Bronson Alcott are the pure type. Then comes Theodore Parker and Ralph Waldo Emerson, crowded out of their pulpits, scorned by their Alma Mater, pitied by the public—yet holding true to their course. And lo! they grew rich, whereas, if they had stuck close to the shore and safety, they would have been drowned in the shallows of oblivion. ¶ On the other hand, we find in the directorate of The Standard Oil Company, John D. and William Rockefeller, H. H. Rogers, Henry M. Flager and General Miller of Baptist Sunday School fame. All these men are zealous members of orthodox churches, giving large sums in support of the "gospel," and taking an active interest in its promulgation.

Huxley, Darwin and Spencer are absolutely outside of the orbit of these good men. All of them say, with J. Pierpont

MARY BAKER EDDY

Morgan, "My mother's religion is good enough for me."

¶ So here we get great practical shrewdness, combined with minds that so far as abstract truth is concerned, are simply prairie-dog towns.

These men belong to a type that will cling to error as long as it is soft, easy and popular.

Most certainly these men are not fools—they are highly competent and useful in their way. But as for superstition, they find it soothing; it saves the trouble of thinking, and all their energies are needed in business. Religion, to them, is a social diversion, with a chance of salvation on the side. Inertia does not grip them when it comes to commerce—but in religion it does.

Lincoln once said that there was just one thing, and only one thing, that God Almighty could not understand: and that was the workings of the mind of an intelligent American juror ♣ ♣

Herbert Spencer says that Sir Isaac Newton was one of the six best educated men the world has seen. He was the first man to resolve light into its constituent elements. Voltaire says that when Newton discovered the Law of Gravitation he excited the envy of the scientific world. "But," adds Voltaire, "when he wrote a book on the Bible prophecies, the men of science got even with him."

Sir Isaac Newton defended the literal inspiration of the Scriptures and was a consistent member of the Church of England. Dr. Johnson was unhappy all day if he did n't touch every tenth picket of the fence with his cane as he walked down town. ¶ Blackstone, the great legal commentator, believed in witchcraft, and bolstered his belief by citing the Scriptural text, "Thou shalt not suffer a witch to live," thus proving Moses a party to the superstition. Sir Matthew Hale, Chief Justice of England, did the same.

MARY BAKER EDDY

Gladstone was a great statesman, and yet he believed in the Mosaic account of Creation, just as does Mary Baker Eddy.

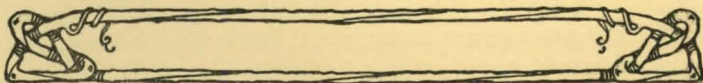

¶ John Adams was a rebel from political slavery, but lived and died a worthy Churchman, subsisting on canned theology—and canned in England, at that.

Franklin and Jefferson were rebels from both political and theological despotism, but looked leniently on leeches and apothecaries.

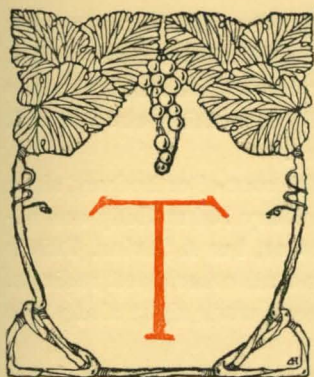

Herbert Spencer had a free mind as regards religion, politics, economics and sociology, yet he was a bachelor, lived in the city, belonged to a club, played billiards and smoked cigars. Physical health was out of his reach, and with all his vast knowledge, he never knew why.

All through history we find violence and gentleness, ignorance and wisdom, folly and shrewdness side by side in the same person.

The one common thing in humanity is inconsistency. To account for it were vain. It is.

MARY BAKER EDDY

HE very boldness of Mrs. Eddy's claims creates an impetus that carries conviction. The woman believes in herself, and she also believes in the Power, of which she is a necessary part, that works for righteousness. She repudiates the supernatural, not by denying "miracles" but by holding that the so-called miracles of the Bible really occurred and were perfectly natural—all according to Natural Law which is the Divine Law. And the explanation of this Divine Law is her particular business. Thus does she win to her side those who are too timid in constitution to forsake forms and ceremonies and stand alone on the broad ground of Rationalism.

Christian Science is not a religion of fight, stress and struggle. Is n't it better to relax and rest and allow divinity to flow through us, than to sit on a sharp rail and call the passer-by names in falsetto?

May Irwin's motto, "Don't Argufy," is n't so bad as a working maxim, after all.

All Christian denominations are very much alike. Their differences are microscopic, and recognized only by those who are immersed in them.

Martin Luther only softened the expression of the Roman Catholic Church, he did not change its essence. Benjamin

MARY BAKER EDDY

Franklin declared he could not tell the difference between a Catholic and an Episcopalian. But Christian Science is a complete departure from all other denominations, and while professing to be Christian is really something else, or if it is Christian, then orthodoxy is not.

Christian Science strikes right at the root of orthodoxy, since it divides the power of Jesus with Mary Baker Eddy and affirms that Jesus was not THE Savior, but A Savior. This is the position of Thomas Paine, and all other good radicals. Christian Science places Mrs. Eddy's work right along side of the Bible.

No denomination has ever put out a volume stating that the book was required in order to make the Bible intelligible. No denomination has ever put forth a person as the equal of Jesus. This has only been done by unbelievers, atheists and free thinkers. Christianity is at last attacked in its own house and by its own household.

It is thoroughly understood and admitted everywhere that there are two kinds of Christianity. One is the kind taught by the Nazarene; and the other kind, the institutional denominations which hold millions upon millions of dollars' worth of property without taxation, and parade their ritual with rich and costly millinery. The one was lived by a Man who had not where to lay His head, and the other was an acquirement taken over from pagan Rome, and continued largely in its pagan form even unto this day.

Christian Science is neither one nor the other, and the obvious pleasantry that it is neither Christian nor scientific, is a jest in earnest. Christian Science is a modern adaptation of all that is best in the simplicity and asceticism of Jesus; the commonsense philosophy of Benjamin Franklin; the mysticism of Swedenborg, and the bold pronunciamento of Robert Ingersoll. It is a religion of affirmation with a denial-of-matter attachment. It is a religion of this world.

MARY BAKER EDDY

Jesus was a Man of Sorrows, but Mary Baker Eddy is a Daughter of Joy. And as the universal good sense of mankind holds that the best preparation for a life to come, if there is one, is to make the best of this, Christian Science is meeting with a fast-growing popular acceptance.

The decline of the old orthodoxy is owing to its clinging to the fallacy that the world's work is base, and nature a trickster luring us to our doom.

Mrs. Eddy reconciles the old idea with the new and makes it mentally palatable. And this is the reason that Christian Science is going to sweep the earth and in twenty years will have but one competitor, the Roman Catholic faith.

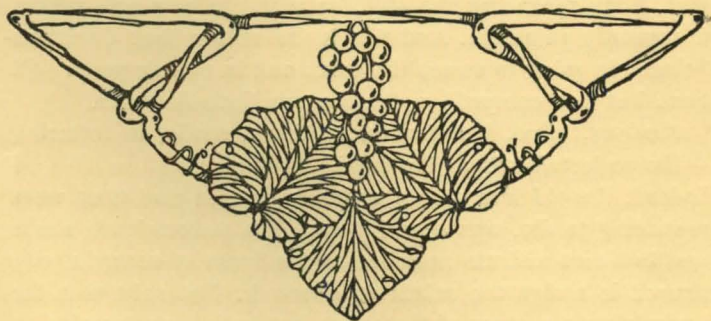

Orthodoxy, blind, blundering, stubborn, senile, is tottering—the undertaker is at the door.

Indeed, the old idea of our orthodox friends that they were preparing to die, was literally true. The undertaker's name and business address attached to the front of many a city church is a sign too subtle to overlook. Not only was the undertaker a partner of the priest, but he is now foreclosing his claim.

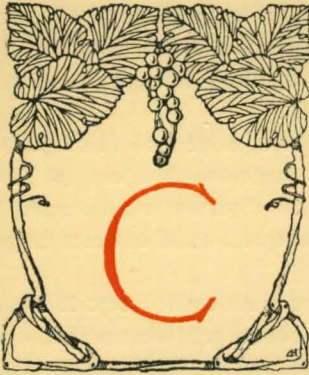

Christian Science is not final. After it has lived its day, another religion will follow, and that is the Religion of

MARY BAKER EDDY

Commonsense, the esoteric religion which Mrs. Eddy herself lives and practices. As for her believers, she gives them the religion of a Book—two Books, the Bible and "Science and Health." They want form and ritual and temples. She gives them these things just as doctors give sweetened water to people who still demand medicine, and as if to supply the zealous converts, just out of orthodoxy, their fill of ecclesiastic husks, she builds fine churches—churches rivaling the far famed San Salute of Venice. Let them have their wish! Paganism is in their blood—they are even trying to worship her! Let them go on and eventually they will pray not in temples nor on this or that mountain, but in spirit and in truth, just as does Mary Baker Eddy, the most successful woman in the world today.

MARY BAKER EDDY

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE is Orthodox Christianity, minus medical fetich and the fear that a belief in sin, sickness, death and eternal punishment naturally lend, plus the joy of a natural, healthy, human life.

The so-called rational Christian sects preserve their Devil in the form of a Doctor, and Hell in the shape of a Hospital.

My hope and expectation is that Christian Science will become a Rational Religion instead of a one-man institution, or a religion of authority, such as it now is. Its superstitious features have doubtless been strong factors in its rapid growth—serving as stays or stocks to aid in the launching. But now, the sooner the ship floats free the better.

Christian Scientists, being men and women, cannot continue to grow if fettered with an index expurgatus, and mandatory edicts and encyclicles. That which binds and manacles must go—the good will remain.

Christian Science brings good news, and good news is always curative. Mrs. Eddy animates her patients with a new thought,—the thought of harmony, the denial of disease and the affirmation that God is good, and life is beautiful. The animation thus produced is in itself the most powerful healing principle known to science. Life is born of love. Joy is a prophylactic. Christian Science comes to the "student" as a great flood of light. His circulation becomes normal, his muscles relax, the nerves rest, digestion acts, elimination takes place—and the person is well.

MARY BAKER EDDY

Fear has congested the organs—love, hope and faith place them in an attitude so Nature plays through them. The patient is healed. In it there is neither mystery nor miracle. It is all very simple. Let us rid ourselves of a belief in the strange and occult!

The Christian Science organization is an expediency. It is an intellectual crutch. The book is a necessity. It is a scaffolding. ¶ Yet he who mistakes the scaffolding for the edifice is a specialist in scaffolding. Truth can never be caught and crystallized in a formula. Also this: truth can never be monopolized by an "Ite" or an "Ist." Eventually the label will be eliminated with the scaffolding, and the lumber of ritual and rite will have to go. We will live truth instead of talking about it.

Among Christian Scientists there are no drunkards, paupers or gamblers. Also, there are no sick people. To them sickness is a disgrace. Orthodox Christians get sick and gratify their sense of approbation by receiving pastoral calls and visits from the doctor and neighbors. The biblical injunction to visit the sick was never followed by Mrs. Eddy—she has always decided for herself just what injunctions should be waived and what followed. Those which she does not like she interprets spiritually or glides over.

The biblical statement that man's days are few and full of trouble; and also the assertion that man is prone to wickedness as the sparks fly upwards, are both very conveniently glossed ♫ ♫

MARY BAKER EDDY

Christian Scientists know the rules of health, just as most people do; but what is more, they follow them, thus avoiding the disgrace of being pointed out. They have made sickness not only tabu, but invalidism ridiculous. When things become absurd and preposterous, we abandon them ♫ Unpopularity can do what logic is helpless to bring about.

¶ The reasoning of Christian Scientists is bad, but their intuitions are right. While denying the existence of matter, no people on earth are as canny, save possibly the Quakers. A bank balance to a Christian Scientist is no barren ideality. It is like falsehood to a Jesuit—a very present help in time of trouble. Sin, to them, consists in making too much fuss about life and talking about death. Do what you want and forget it. Quit talking about the weather, night air, miasma.

¶ Knowingly or unknowingly Christian Scientists cultivate resiliency. They are proof against drafts and microbes. Eat what you like, but not too much of it. Be moderate.

Christian Scientists get their joy out of their work. This is essentially hygienic. They breathe deeply, eat moderately, bathe plentifully, work industriously—and smile.

This is all sternly scientific. It can never be argued down. No school of medicine has ever offered a prophylactic equal to work and good-cheer, and no system of religion has ever offered a working formula for health, happiness and success equal to that launched by Mrs. Eddy.

MARY BAKER EDDY

The science of medicine is a science of palliation. Christian Scientists avoid the cause of sickness, and thus keep well. ¶ There is no vitality in drugs. Nature cures—obey her. In this matter of bodily health just a few plain rules suffice. And these rules, fairly followed, soon grow into a pleasurable habit ❧ ❧

Fortunately, we do not have to oversee our digestion, our circulation, the work of the millions of pores that form the skin, or the action of the nerves.

Folks who get fussy about their digestion and assume a personal charge of their nerves, have "nerves," and are apt to have no digestion.

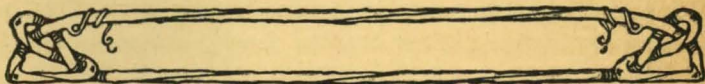

"I have a pain in my side," said the woman who had no money to the busy doctor.

"Forget it," was the curt advice.

Get the Health Habit, and forget it. And this is the quintessence of Christian Science.

Your mental attitude controls your body. Happiness is health. There is no devil but fear.

AS A MAN THINKETH IN HIS HEART SO IS HE.

Roycroft Xmas Kandy

ALL Bromides send "Buylers" at Christmas; but pleasant people, who tabu the commonplace have their Christmas orders cared for by the KANDY KITCHEN GIRLS. A little thoughtful consideration as to individual taste earns a lasting gratitude. Many different kinds of Pure Sweets

MAPLE PECAN PATTIES—Postpaid	- -	80c per lb.
MAPLE NUT CREAM—Postpaid	- -	80c per lb.
MAPLE KISSES—Postpaid	- - -	60c per lb.

Address: The Kandy Kitchen Girls
EAST AURORA, ERIE COUNTY, NEW YORK, U. S. A.

LIBRARY FURNITURE

ROYCROFTERS pride themselves on their ability to furnish a Library without sacrilegiously offending the bibliophile. Beautiful books require a beautiful setting, we know, the same as precious stones. Every piece of Roycroft Furniture is first designed by an Artist, then hewn and shaped by men who above all things love good books.—Harmony is the Keynote of distinctive Library Decoration. Tables, Book-blocks, Bookcases, Rockers, Morris Chairs—all pictured in our New Catalogue. We will send it to you FREE on Application and tired of the one-toned magazine?
THE ROYCROFTERS, East Aurora, New York State

Are You a Reader?

Are You a Writer?

and wearied that excellent work of yours should be returned because it does not conform to that tone?

AT ONCE GET IN TOUCH WITH

M O O D S

the monthly magazine that prints any work whatsoever, of any author, known or unknown, solely on its literary merit. ¶ There is no "tone" to which contributors must conform. Each one writes his own work, free from the crushing influence of conformity.

THE INDIVIDUALITY OF MOODS LIES IN THE INDIVIDUALITY OF EACH CONTRIBUTION

15 cents the copy

One Dollar Fifty the year

Send stamp for sample copy and SEE!

106 West 86th Street, New York City

The Mangasarian Publications

A New Catechism. Fourth Edition, Revised and Enlarged, with Portrait of Author, $1.00

Mangasarian-Crapsey Debate on the Historicity of Jesus. 25 cents.

Pearls. (New Edition.) Brave Thoughts from Brave Minds. Selected and arranged by M. M. Mangasarian. 25 cents.

The Truth About Jesus—Was He a Myth? New Edition. Illustrated with old engravings showing evolution of Christ-Idea.

Lectures—10c a Copy by Mail, and Three for 25c at the Hall.

The Martyrdom of Hypatia.

Debate with a Presbyterian.—With Prelude on Theodore Roosevelt.

The Rationalism of Shakespeare—His Opinion of the Jew and the Christian in The Merchant of Venice.

Morality Without God.

How the Bible was Invented.

Christian Science. A Comedy in Four Acts.

What was the Religion of Shakespeare.

Bryan on Religion.

Christian Science Analyzed and Answered. (New Edition)

The Religion of Washington, Jefferson and Franklin.

When God was King in Geneva.

Woman Suffrage

Independent Religious Society, Orchestra Hall, Chicago

LITTLE JOURNEYS

BY E L B E R T H U B B A R D

One Hundred and Fifty-Six Separate Biographies of Men and Women Who Have Transformed the Living Thought of the World

BOUND VOLUMES I TO XXII INCLUSIVE

- Vol. I. To the Homes of Good Men and Great
- Vol. II. To the Homes of American Authors
- Vol. III. To the Homes of Famous Women
- Vol. IV. To the Homes of American Statesmen
- Vol. V. To the Homes of Eminent Painters

LITTLE JOURNEYS: up to Volume V., inclusive, contain twelve numbers to the Volume and they were printed by G. P. Putnam's Sons, but bound by The Roycrofters. Gilt top, uncut edges, title inlaid, in limp leather, silk lined, Three Dollars a Volume. A few bound specially and solidly in boards, ooze calf back and corners at Five Dollars a Volume.

- Vol. VI. To the Homes of English Authors
- Vol. VII. To the Homes of English Authors
- Vol. VIII. To the Homes of Great Musicians
- Vol. IX. To the Homes of Great Musicians
- Vol. X. To the Homes of Eminent Artists
- Vol. XI. To the Homes of Eminent Artists
- Vol. XII. To the Homes of Eminent Orators
- Vol. XIII. To the Homes of Eminent Orators
- Vol. XIV. To the Homes of Great Philosophers
- Vol. XV. To the Homes of Great Philosophers
- Vol. XVI. To the Homes of Great Scientists
- Vol. XVII. To the Homes of Great Scientists
- Vol. XVIII. To the Homes of Great Lovers
- Vol. XIX. To the Homes of Great Lovers
- Vol. XX. To the Homes of Great Reformers
- Vol. XXI. To the Homes of Great Reformers
- Vol. XXII. To the Homes of Great Teachers

Beginning with Volume VI.: Printed on Roycroft water-mark, hand-made paper, hand-illuminated, frontispiece portrait of each subject, bound in limp leather, silk lined, gilt top, at Three Dollars a Volume, or for the Complete Set of Twenty-one Volumes, Sixty-three Dollars. Specially bound in boards, ooze calf back and corners, Five Dollars per Volume, or One Hundred and Five Dollars for the Complete Set. Sent to the Elect on suspicion.

THE ROYCROFTERS, EAST AURORA, NEW YORK

IT is Easier to Perceive Error than to Find Truth, for the former lies on the surface and is easily seen, while the latter lies in the depths, where few are willing to Search

G O E T H E